In the greatest castle of Aihrde, the Keep of the Emperor, Lord Coburg the Undying, Master of the Dark Court, upholds the law of the land and maintains order and peace for the empire. He stands his place above all and searches the very edges of the Dreaming Sea. During one of his hunts, just south of the blackwood port city of Sabile, he came upon some disturbing news. A powerful evil is spreading like a disease across the common lands, he heard; a terrible corruption that has led the Land of the Great Whiteness to fall into ruin. But he knew the truth! He knew that the corruption was not spreading of its own volition, and that it could only be stopped by one man, the one man he had sent forth to deliver him the power of him that is lost, the confessor's sword! It was then that a terrible fog fell on the land, blanketing it with a thick blackness that would have defeated the toughest of knights in battle, driven cowards away from their own hearths, and made the boldest retreat from the shadow of the nightmare! Through the unending mist the Keeper gathered his knights and mounted his horse, a pure white steed with eyes and mane and hooves of pure gold. With a face of awe and longing and a sparkle in his gold eyes, Lord Coburg the Undying rode to the end of the world in search of the Vessel of Souls that had drawn such a consequence out of him! Aihrde takes inspiration from the great works of F.A.Slavic poetry, yet remains a Castles & Crusades setting. This plugin features special effects, tracking upgrades, turn tracking, and more! EDIT: thanks to Shurpeet for setting me straight on the timeline for when this was achieved. thanks to Shurpeet for setting me straight on the timeline for when this was achieved. SPECIAL NOTE: Thanks to @progmomma for taking the time to specifically guide me through the steps to properly apply this token as an upgrade from game patch 3.1.0! Thanks to @progmomma for taking the time to specifically guide me through the steps to properly apply this token as an upgrade from game patch 3.1.0! Shurpeet has graciously packaged this into a.json file and detailed it for my benefit! If anyone else has this same issue, they can skip the rest of this step (from now on) and go right to calling this module. Ddraig Goch's Tyranny is easily one of the highlights to grabbing the 3.1.0 base that it provides. TSA Build Information: DOWNLOAD THE.json FILE INSTEAD OF THIS POSTING! UPDATE: PLEASE USE SHA1 to verify your JSON files! This patch does NOT impact the base version and you are free to use this license! Download at your convenience (zip or json), then open the JSON file and edit the attributes as needed. The line that reads "Version: "3.1.0"" simply says this is the version that the license should be licensed from. Enter "4.0.0" to activate the 4.0.0 license and any version between 3.1.0-4.0.0 is acceptable. This license is unchanged from version 3.1.0-4.0.0 Arokh Thenji'spuz's PK token (Scepter) One of the more unusual tokens in the Tyranny Token Pack is Arokh Thenji'spuz's PK Token (Scepter). This token grants its user 2 Mutagenics which can add Perk Points to an opposing character, effectively allowing a 10% increase in the effectiveness of a character. Original Text - Arok

Think of this game as a series of choose-your-own-adventure style puzzles, only your decisions have consequences in the real world. That's right, you are the game and every decision you make has a consequence. Each path you take through the house will unlock a new event, new characters, new items, and a new world! That means that the house is essentially your sandbox, and if you finish the house once you have a brand new game to explore. KEY FEATURES: Explore a variety of house: There are dozens of unique locations and characters. Explore your house like a sandbox game. Each room/level is completely different, and is fully explorable. Every encounter you have with the characters will help you unlock new options, new plot lines, new toys, and new choices. Each room in the house has unique objects, secrets, items, and challenges. Each room has a special portal to the next room, and each room has an entrance. Each room also has an exit portal to the next room. Most rooms also have a door that leads to the outside! You can not simply go from room to room in a linear fashion, instead each room has a unique set of options and challenges. If you get stuck in a room, there are usually a variety of ways to leave, some of which are locked. Use room features like doors and portals to your advantage. By finding different ways to leave a room or to enter a room, you can unlock and explore hidden side quests. Have fun playing around with new items and features that unlock as you progress. Unlock special items and features: Use the unique features of your house to unlock new things and new content. You can use the features in the house like doors and portals. Look in the house and you will find secret areas and items. Have fun unlocking the specials and seeing what you find! There are four types of locations and features in the house: Rooms: Use these rooms to get to different locations in the house. Rooms are where you explore the house, and visit special locations like the garden, the back yard, and the kitchen. You can use rooms as your waypoint to explore the house. Doors and portals are used to go from room to room, or to get to new locations in the house. Desks
