About Frank the Miner

This game was made by Team Anthill.

You are Frank the Miner. Your goal is to stop the train as fast as possible while in the station.

The instructions are similar to Minesweeper. The game contains graphics and sounds and simple story too.

This is the first version of the game. This version doesn't have much difficulty level. So I developed it as a quick learn game so you can play and see all the features soon.

Planning to make more new versions. Since it is first version, I have learned a lot about the game and how people play, mainly how the train behaves when the lever is pressed. So by making this version, I can make more new versions, such as more difficult, more game play, and different types of game play. This version is the basis for the next version, so if you like the game, please rate it and comment on the game and your experiences. I would appreciate it!

A Progress Mod for this version, is under development. The Progress Mod is for training the game difficulty and play speed. At this stage, the Progress Mod is not 100% complete yet. I will continue to update the game with more Levels and Challenges. The Progress Mod will add more contents to the game.

The back story of Wanderer is simple. Inside of a capsule, you awake in a vast empty space, with no memory of who you are or what happened before. Everything was recorded. You are the data. Everything is there to discover: unknown civilizations, fantastical creatures, dangerous artifacts, and other mysteries hidden inside the galaxy. While it's a mystery as to where you are, you will soon find out it's a mystery as to who you are. Use your intuition to navigate through the dangerous environment and ancient artifacts to discover clues as to your past. Your life is in your hands as the probes around you slowly end your own life to make way for the next probe, while rapidly accelerating to a near-light-speed speed. Accurate and smooth locomotion, as well as intuitive controls and the ability to talk to the entire probe community, makes Wanderer a fun and satisfying experience that is unlike anything else on the market. Join the Wanderer community: The Utopian Society for VR Business For the first time at AGD HQ, we now have a video we made to our own Business - The Utopian Society for VR Business. At the AGD Elite Summit, in collaboration with SocialEarth, we provided VR Business training to attendees. We heard great things about this being one of their biggest focuses on, for potential Virtual Reality developers. Now that the first program has been trained, we can finally release our thought provoking video. New Features: * Plenty of upgrades/spells to be unlocked via in-game actions * Master your spells to become a powerful guardian * Unlock new tiles and summon new troops * Craft new spells to defeat the dark forces * Score attack and be the best in game with battle mode * Rewrite the world in story mode, or try all new possibilities in random game modeStereotactic radiosurgery for pleomorphic xanthoastrocytoma of the temporal lobe. Stereotactic radiosurgery was used to ablate a recurrent pleomorphic xanthoastrocytoma of the right temporal lobe. The tumor was inoperable because it was attached to the middle cranial fossa floor. Radiosurgery was performed using a Gamma Knife. Because of the proximity of the tumor to important structures, it was decided to target the periphery of the tumor with high dose radiation, to ablate the tumor but avoid radiation of the optic pathway and other vital structures. The patient had 10 years of follow-up and had not had any recurrences. This was one of the first stereotactic radiosurgery procedures performed in Canada. With surgical resection as the primary treatment modality for the temporal lobe tumors, the proximity of the tumor to the optic pathways or adjacent brainstem structures complicates the surgical approach. In those cases, stereotactic radiosurgery may be more useful as a secondary modality to minimize the morbidity of resection.* * Copyright (c) 2018, Oracle and/or its affiliates. What's new in Trainz Route: Bea-Dawe Model Railway:

's Next Step 1.7/1.6.x/1.5.2 Now Available for download 2020-01-24 - We are pleased to announce the release of RetroArch - Picodrive's Next Step 1.7/1.6.x/1.5.2 for all supported operating systems. As usual for official releases, this version contains important fixes and improvements to ensure a better and longer stability, but the most important change at this time might be the implementation of our new rebasing system. What is RetroArch? RetroArch is an open-source emulator, aiming to replace your old, slow, outdated and unstable retro games emulator with our very own. RetroArch - Picodrive's Next Step is an improved version of our main well-known program namely RetroArch itself. How does RetroArch - Picodrive's Next Step work? Since RetroArch - Picodrive's Next Step is still in development, not every feature is available and some of them might be buggy. The current version also includes some core features which you can test in the upcoming days. All in all, our R-A-P platform seeks for stability and better performance while aiming to focus on providing you with a great atmosphere in which to experience all your favorite games in the best quality available. Our first aim is to release the 1.7 beta version which will be the stable way for users to benefit from some of our features like bug reporting, shader to use and drawing mode feature, but the best of all would be fixing a lot of defects and a bit of overhaul. As things are going, the first patch will come with some bugs but we'll try to patch those as fast as possible. This is also the best time to report issues, and know that we're actually trying to solve a lot of bugs and ask for help if you want to offer it. We're here for users like you. Additionally, we have some special features for dedicated fans who're owning the very latest R-A-P v1.6.x on our Patreon page. If you're one of them and are subscribed to our YouTube channel, the 1.7.1 alpha version will be soon released to the public and directly to your device through the asset manager. See the Features section for an explanation of each feature as well as their importance. Besides that, you can find a detailed changelog and all the related information listed to the right. We

The Crystal Gems are back for the third game in the Light Trilogy! When two powerful Gem rulers threaten the newfound peace of Era 3, Steven and his friends must embark on a new RPG quest to stop them! It's time to unleash the light! Choose your preferred party members as you battle alongside your friends in the unique RPG combat system. Along the way, you'll gather gifts, gems, collectible costumes, and much more! • 9 playable characters, including Steven, Garnet, Pearl, Amethyst, Lapis Lazuli, Bismuth, Peridot, Connie, and Greg! • 2 new Gems! • New fusion attacks and custom powers! • Collect and collect ... platinum! Like many Android kids you probably grew up gaming on the iPhone. We all did. When Steve Jobs sat down to do his thing, all the geeks took notice. The iPhone changed the game, and that's why we are picking up the iPhone XR. What's this all about? The iPhone XR is our first officially-made phone with Apple's new wireless charging capabilities. Apple first introduced wireless charging at WWDC 2017 with the iPhone 8 and the iPhone X, and it's now being included on all of their flagship phones going forward. The first thing that stands out with the iPhone XR, though, is its size. The second generation of the iPhone holds the distinction of being Apple's smallest iPhone to date (thanks to its 6.1-inch display). This might be limiting, but it also means you can carry it in your pocket. The iPhone XR starts at $749 for a 64GB model and $849 for a 256GB model. Our review unit is a 32GB version, but the iPhone XR also has space for up to 256GB of storage. This is where the iPhone XR differs from the XS: its screen is a bit smaller and the smaller battery that's included is designed to last longer. That's what Apple calls the battery life of the iPhone XR — the XS starts at 2 hours of battery life and can only get up to 18 hours. It's a big deal when you consider you'll get the same high-end specs and a similar display. Apple's wireless charging system comes standard on the iPhone XR. Apple has also added a brand new wireless charging station called the AirPower that will be available for purchase later
